

Capital Equity Markets Inactivity Fee Policy

At Capital Equity Markets, we prioritise active participation in the forex markets. To encourage engagement and foster a dynamic trading environment, we have established an inactivity fee policy.

Dormant Account Designation

An account will be classified as dormant if it remains inactive for more than 30 consecutive days without any trading activity. The inactivity period begins after these initial 30 days of no activity.

- Zero-Balance Accounts:

Accounts with a zero balance will not incur inactivity fees. However, the company reserves the right to close such accounts after providing notice via the platform or email.

Avoiding Inactivity Fees

We encourage traders to maintain regular trading activity. Staying active allows you to:

- Take advantage of market opportunities.
- Stay informed of market trends and developments.
- Improve trading skills and decision-making.

Regular trading helps you avoid inactivity fees while enhancing your trading experience and market awareness.
